Ubiquitous Energy awarded best presentation at the 2015 New England Venture Summit.

At the 10th annual New England Venture Summit, youngStartup Ventures awarded Best Presentation to Ubiquitous Energy. The premier industry gathering connects venture capitalists, corporate VCs, angel investors, and technology transfer professionals with senior executives of early stage and emerging growth companies. CEO Miles Barr gave the presentation for Ubiquitous Energy. "The event was a great opportunity for us to present our business to a group of investors we don't typically run into on the west coast. It's so important to practice your messaging in front of a knowledgeable audience."

On the first day young companies were invited to participate in a practice round where investment professionals posed questions and offered recommendations. There were also panel discussions about how best to reach out to the investment community. The second day was for final presentations on which participants were judged. "It's always nice to receive positive affirmation on your messaging, but we also received some valuable input we'll work on incorporating as we push into our next round of fundraising."
